TOP THINGS FOR FANS TO DO

Qatar captures the essence of the whole Middle East in one accessible, safe and unmissable destination. More than one million FIFA World Cup Qatar 2022™ fans can expect to embark on the trip of a lifetime, with so many exciting cultural and natural adventures to explore, all packed into one sun-swept coastal peninsula.

INSIDE DOHA

01

STROLL THROUGH SOUQ WAQIF

Souq Waqif is an authentic, bustling, traditional marketplace. Visitors are greeted by the aromas of spices and Arabian oud incense, with Qatari artefacts displayed throughout scattered stalls. Dating back around 250 years, Souq Waqif was originally a weekend market used by traders. Now, alongside the alleyways full of local treasures, the souq is home to hotels, restaurants and cafés, alongside interesting public art, such as a giant golden thumb sculpture, named Le Pouce

CRUISE ABOARD A DHOW

Dhows were historically used by Qatar's traders and pearl divers, who used to spend months at a time on the vessels. Today, a sunset dhow cruise is one of the most picturesque ways for visitors to soak up the sights of Doha. The best place to source and secure a cruise is along the seven-kilometre-long Doha Corniche, which is lined by rows of many traditional wooden dhow boats.

THE NATIONAL MUSEUM OF QATAR

Designed by the acclaimed French architect Jean Nouvel, the National Museum of Qatar (NMoQ) is instantly recognisable due to its unique structure. Scores of interlocking disks give the building the appearance of a desert rose crystal – a naturally occurring rock formation that can be found in Qatar’s deserts. NMoQ is built around a palace that was once the seat of government. Inside, the museum takes visitors on a journey through the story of Qatar, from pre-historic to modern times. The popular gift shop is home to a soaring interior comprising 40,000 individual pieces of sustainably sourced European oak and inspired by the Dahl Al Misfir cave in central Qatar.

MUSEUM OF ISLAMIC ART

The Museum of Islamic Art, or MIA, has become an iconic landmark in Qatar. Designed by famed architect I.M. Pei, the museum was revamped before the FIFA World Cup Qatar 2022™ and re-opened in October. Among the more than 1,000 objectives are remnants of Abbasid palaces and historical copies of the Qur’an, while new exhibitions bring to life the trade of ideas and commodities from across the Islamic world. Outside the museum is a large green park and promenade, a walk along which culminates in a sculpture by American artist Richard Serra called 7, which took three years and more than one-million-man hours to create.

OTHER MUSEUMS

In addition to NMoQ and MIA, there is a range of interesting museums to explore, notably:

- 3-2-1 Qatar Olympic and Sports Museum: The world's most sophisticated museum dedicated to sport, hosting legions of legendary items, such as Michael Schumacher's Ferrari and Pelé's football boots
- Mathaf: Arab Museum of Modern Art: The modern art hub of Qatar with the largest collection of modern and contemporary Arab art in the region
- Fire Station Museum: A hip arts space housed in a former fire station, with exciting contemporary art exhibitions
- Sheikh Faisal Bin Qassim Al Thani Museum: A fascinating, privately-owned museum, containing more than 15,000 eclectic items across four primary themes: Islamic art, Qatar heritage, vehicles, and coins

QATAR INTERNATIONAL LIBRARY

In the heart of Education City is a state-of-the-art, 45,000-square-metre library, housing more than one million books. Designed by renowned Dutch architect Rem Koolhaas, the building's iconic structure resembles two pieces of paper that are pulled apart and folded diagonally at the corners to create a shell-like structure, in the style of a paper aeroplane. A dedicated Heritage Library within the National Library preserves some of the nation's most important cultural and historical items in climate-controlled display cases.

MSHEIREB DOWNTOWN DOHA

Msheireb Downtown Doha is the world's first sustainable downtown regeneration project. The area has transformed the centre of Doha into a walkable architectural marvel, lined by cafés and restaurants. Msheireb's 100 buildings are inspired by Qatari heritage and include free museums celebrating the history of four historic heritage houses. In the heart of the area is Barahat Msheireb – the largest open-air covered square in the Middle East – accentuated by the Mandarin Oriental, Doha at one end, and the M7 creative hub for designers and entrepreneurs at the other.

EXHIBITIONS

Throughout the FIFA World Cup Qatar 2022™ cultural entities across Qatar will be putting on fascinating events and activities.

At Qatar National Library visitors will be able to explore the rich sporting heritage of Qatar at ‘Goal! How Football Kicked Off in Qatar’. A special exhibition at Al Riwaq Gallery, ‘Lusail Museum: Tales of a Connected World’, will preview an upcoming museum designed by Herzog & de Meuron. Education City will host the D’reesha Performing Arts Festival to profile some of the country’s top talent across theatre, music, poetry, storytelling, education, research and more.

Throughout each year Qatar also hosts ambitious temporary exhibitions. For example until 1 April 2023 “Forever Valentino” at M7 will feature over over 200 Valentino Haute Couture pieces and pret-à-porter outfits – the Italian house’s most comprehensive exhibition yet.

DAY TRIP TO THE 'INLAND SEA'

The 'Inland Sea', or Khor Al Adaid, in the south of Qatar, is one of the few places in the world where the desert meets the sea. The Inland Sea is accessible only by 4x4 vehicles, and visitors should hire a tour operator to take them dune bashing along the way as part of an exhilarating desert safari.

PURPLE ISLAND

Purple Island is a hidden gem famous for its abundance of mangroves. The island's association with purple comes from an ancient Kassite-controlled dye industry, which started more than two thousand years ago, when the colour was coveted by Roman royalty for their clothing. It is worth checking the tides in advance of a trip, as during high tide visitors can go kayaking through the mangrove forests on a guided tour, before hiking around the island to scout out the perfect spot for photos.

EAST-WEST/WEST-EAST

Richard Serra's breath-taking public art installation in the Qatari desert comprises four 14-metre-high steel plates spread out over one kilometre. The top of each plate, amongst the Ras Abrouq rock formations in Zekreet, marks the ancient level of the sea. Also in the area is the Umbrella Rock Mountain, Zekreet Fort and an abandoned film set known as Film City.

AL JASSASIYA ROCK CARVINGS

These 900 carvings, known as ‘petroglyphs’, are somewhat of a mystery and nobody knows precisely when they were created. Discovered in 1957, the carvings feature shapes including fish, ostriches, dhow boats and cup marks, across a 700-metre area. It has been claimed by some that the art dates back over 2,000 years, though the 8th to 10th century AD is more likely.

07

DAHL AL MISFIR CAVE

The 40-metre-deep Dahl Al Misfir, ‘Cave of Light’, is considered the largest accessible cave in Qatar. Estimated to have been formed around 300,000-500,000 years ago, the cave emits a moon-like glow due to gypsum deposits in the centre of the peninsula. These same minerals give rise to ‘desert roses’ – clusters of crystals that inspired Jean Nouvel in his iconic design of the National Museum of Qatar.

AL ZUBARAH FORT

Qatar's UNESCO World Heritage Site, Al Zubarah Fort, is a pristine example of a traditional Arabic fortress. The walls overlook the ruins of a once bustling pearling town that saw fierce tribal battles as powerful empires fought for regional dominance. Visitors to the site will find a museum with historical artefacts including cannonballs, coins and the equipment used by pearl divers. On the way to Al Zubarah are the remains of the abandoned village of Al Jumail, a 'ghost town' that offers a glimpse into Qatar's humble past.
